Getting there

By Underground

From Munich main station (Hauptbahnhof), proceed to the underground (U-Bahn). You can either take U1 direction "Mangfallplatz" or U2 direction "Messestadt Ost" and disembark at the stop "Sendlinger Tor". At "Sendlinger Tor" change to U6 direction "Garching Forschungszentrum". From the city center, take the U6 from "Marienplatz" also to "Garching Forschungszentrum". Disembark at the final destination. Upon arrival, once you get off the U-Bahn, use the stairs to your left "exit Lichtenbergstraße". Now you can see the building right in front of you. If you use the elevator to get to the street level, proceed to your right until the end of the road (about 200 m), the glass building in front of you is then the Institute. Walking distance about 3 minutes.

Overall travel time approx.: 30-40 min.

By Suburban Train

Coming from north (e. g. Freising main station or airport Munich) take the S-Bahn S1 direction „Neufahrn“, then change to Bus 690. Disembark at the final destination „Garching Forschungszentrum“.

Please note that the Bus 690 only runs from Monday to Friday, not on weekends. Alternatively, you can take the S-Bahn S8 from the airport to Ismaning and then change to Bus 230, which runs frequently from Monday to Sunday.
